

Emigration

We are requested to correct the statement contained in our last respecting the payment “by the parish” of the expense incurred by the projected emigration of certain inhabitants of All Cannings. The parishioners have, indeed, liberally come forward on the occasions; but they have also especially applied to Lord Ashburton for pecuniary help; his lordship being the chief landed proprietor of the aforesaid parish, and the emigration of the entire party depending very much on his lordship’s seasonable aid.
