

Crime and Punishment

Alvediston

1818

Cornelius Randall, late of Alvediston, cordwainer, charged with having, in the night of the 1st instant, broken open the shop of Robert Barnett, in the parish of Bower Chalk, and stolen there from a pair of boots, a pair of shoes, and other articles, his property.

Salisbury and Winchester Journal Monday 12 January 1818