

St. Martin's Churchyard, Bremhill

Husband & Wife Buried Together

Lately died as she was making her bed, Edith Smallcombe, of Bremhill, Wilts, aged 43; and the next evening her husband died, who had been ill 4 days. He had not been sensible for some time, and was unacquainted with his wife's death. He was aged 61, and they were both buried in one grave in Bremhill church-yard the Sunday following.

Bath Chronicle Thursday 4 March 1784