

Accidents

Burcombe

1800-1899

1867

Accident. On Thursday, a youth, about 13 years of age, was looking at a steam plough at work in a field in the occupation of Mr. Mayo, and on getting too near his clothes became entangled in the wire, and he was drawn up to one of the corners, his shoulder being very much lacerated. It is surprising that his arm was not torn off. He was taken to the Salisbury Infirmary, and is progressing favourably.

Western Gazette, Friday, 3 May 1867