

Chicklade Lodge to be Let or Sold

To be let or sold – Chicklade Lodge, in the county of Wilts, late in the occupation of John Dyer, Esq.

The premises consist of a good substantial dwelling house, fit for the reception of a gentleman's family, with convenient offices thereunto belonging, water closet, laundry, coach house and stabling; two gardens and a pretty paddock; pleasantly situated in the delightful village of Chicklade, very near a new parish church; close to the turnpike road leading from Mere to Fonthill; two miles from Fonthill, one mile from Hindon, six miles from Deptford Inn; a very good neighbourhood; very healthy situation.

For particulars inquire at John Alford's, Esq, solicitor, New Street, Salisbury; or at the premises at Chicklade Lodge.

Immediate possession may be had. - The house is unfurnished, excepting fixtures, grates &c.
