

Scouts' Supper

Scouts of the 1st Chippenham group of Boy Scouts took an "evening off" on Saturday and consumed a fish and chip supper, which was paid for by wastepaper. They have been hard at work for three months collecting and sorting this waste at the request of the Wastepaper Control. They had hoped to make a monthly collection from houses, but the weather has been so bad that they are already several weeks behind. With the arrival of the light evenings, it is hoped that matters will be speeded up. The paper has to be sorted into three grades before disposal and this is a lengthy job. Three big loads have so far been dealt with in Chippenham. The supper was part of the annual "bunfight", and 25 Scouts took part and had a very enjoyable time. Various games and competitions were arranged.
