

Horses for the Army

It is not unusual to see horses in the Market Paddock, but such a number of heavy animals as were assembled there on Wednesday have probably never before been seen. The reason was that farmers and horse owners in the locality had received intimation that animals were required for army purposes. Many, however, were sent home again. Col. Colston, of Devizes with whom was Mr. F. Bazley, was the purchasing officer.

Wiltshire Times 1914-1918