

Bath Bridegroom Weds Wilts Squire's Daughter

Mr. Charles Murray Floyd, of 24 Milsom Street, Bath, youngest son of the Dowager Lady Floyd and the late Capt. Sir Henry Floyd, Bt., R.N., of 3, Sloane Avenue, London, S.W., and Mrs. John Boyle, widow of Lieut-Col. P. J. S. Boyle, Royal Scots Fusiliers, only daughter of Major and Mrs. Robert Fuller, of Great Chalfield, Melksham, were married on Saturday, at All Saints Church, Great Chalfield. Canon F. Sangster and the Rev. R. L. B. Howe, Vicar of Melksham, officiated. Many of the tenantry of the bride's father, who is the popular squire of Great Chalfield, were present at the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a long sapphire blue velvet dress with mink hat and muff to match.

She was attended by Miss Penelope Fuller and Miss Victoria Fuller (cousins of the bride) in cream net dresses and blue velvet sashes. Masters Simon and David Boyle, younger sons of the bride, wore cream silk shirts and dark blue velvet trousers.

Major General Sir Henry Floyd, Bt., brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The reception was held at Great Chalfield. The honeymoon is being spent in Ireland.

Bath Chronicle, 14 February 1948

OPC Note

The bride was born Mary Elizabeth Fuller