

John Collar

Mr. Whitmarsh held an inquest on Wednesday, at Hankerton, near Malmesbury, on the body of John Collar, 5 years of age, who was much burnt in the absence of his mother. He was able to state afterwards that a spark flew out of the fire upon his clothes, which led to the accident. Verdict accordingly.

Devizes and Wiltshire Gazette, Thursday, 2 February 1843