In the 1911 census, Gilbert, aged 22, was living at Homington Down Barn, with his father Henry, brother Frederick George, and Mabel Dora Clarke, aged 19, his cousin.

Gilbert Shoemark enlisted at Salisbury. He was formerly in the Wiltshire Regiment, No.12187. and he died at Gallipoli, Turkey.

Historical Information

The eight month campaign in Gallipoli was fought by Commonwealth and French forces in an attempt to force Turkey out of the war, to relieve the deadlock of the Western Front in France and Belgium, and to open a supply route to Russia through the Dardanelles and the Black Sea.

The Allies landed on the peninsula on 25-26 April 1915; the 29th Division at Cape Helles in the south and the Australian and New Zealand Corps north of Gaba Tepe on the west coast, an area soon known as Anzac. On 6 August, further landings were made at Suvla, just north of Anzac, and the climax of the campaign came in early August when simultaneous assaults were launched on all three fronts. However, the difficult terrain and stiff Turkish resistance soon led to the stalemate of trench warfare. From the end of August, no further serious action was fought and the lines remained unchanged. The peninsula was successfully evacuated in December and early January 1916. Source: Commonwealth War Graves Commission
