

The former Homington Primitive Methodist Chapel, where both bride and groom were active members

Wedding of Mr. E. T. Hewlett and Miss Beatrice Parsons

On Wednesday afternoon, the marriage was solemnised at the Primitive Methodist Church, Fisherton Street, Salisbury, of Mr. E. T. Hewlett, youngest son of Mr. Thomas Hewlett, of Homington, to Miss Beatrice Parsons, eldest daughter of Mr. William Parsons, also of this village. The Rev. F. Shergold officiated in the presence of a large number of friends. The bridesmaids were the Misses Elsie, Bessie, Florrie, and Dorris Parsons (sisters of the bride), and the bride was given away by her father. Both the bride and bridegroom have been active workers in the Sunday School and Band of Hope connected with the Homington Primitive Methodist Church, and the bride also assisted as organist. Both will be missed on leaving to reside in Salisbury. They received a large number of presents.

Salisbury Times, Friday, 30 April 1909