MANOR of IDMASTON, Wilts. WHEREAS the GAME of this Manor hath been of late years much poached and destroyed; this is to give notice, that all unqualified persons who are found sporting or trespassing therein, will be dealt with and punished according to law; and all qualified persons are requested to forbear sporting there, until the game is increased. If any person will give notice to EDWARD TOWSEY, Gamekeeper, of any unqualified person offending after this notice, such person shall be rewarded for so doing. November 3, 1789. Salisbury & Winchester Journal, Monday, 9 November 1789
