

The Manor of Imber, Ball and Supper

On the 12th instant on account of his lately having come into possession of the manor of Imber, Wilts, James Morris Davis, esq., of Charlotte Street, Fitzroy Square, London, gave a ball and supper at the mansion, to the respectable families in that neighbourhood; on which occasion upwards of 70 ladies and gentlemen attended.

Bath Chronicle and Weekly Gazette. 22 November 1821