

Crime and Punishment

Knook

The neighborhood of Heytesbury has of late been the scene of a vast number of depredations. A few evenings since, some thieves entered the premises of Mr T. Parham, of Knook, and stole from a barn six bushels of wheat. The premises of Mr Green, of the same place, have been also entered, and a quantity of potatoes carried away. The fowl-house of Mrs Searchfield was also broken into, and some fowls stolen therefrom. The thieves have hitherto escaped detection.

(Wiltshire Independent – Thursday 2 February, 1837)

