Latton-cum-Eisey

LATTON-CUM-EISEY is a village and parish on the river Churn and the Thames and Severn canal, 1.5 miles north-west from Cricklade station on the Midland & South Western Junction railway, in the Northern division of the county, Highworth hundred, Cricklade petty sessional division, Cricklade and Wootton union, and in Cricklade rural deanery, North Wilts archdeaconry, and Bristol diocese. By an Order of the County Council, confirmed by the Local Government Board in 1897, the parish of Eisey, (including the tithing of Water Eaton) is now amalgamated with Latton. The church of St John the Baptist is a building of stone in the Norman and later styles, consisting of modern chancel, nave, transepts, south porch, and an embattled western tower containing 5 bells: the chancel, arch, tower and south doorway are Norman: in the nave are several memorial windows to members of the Beadon family, and in the chancel are others to the Habgood family: there are 180 sittings. The register dates from the year 1576. The living is a vicarage with that of Eisey annexed, joint net yearly value £250, with residence, in the gift of the Earl of St Germans, and held since 1913 by the Rev. Hugh Robert Phillips. The charities amount to £11 yearly, derived from the rent of land, which is yearly divided among such of the poor as are not in receipt of parochial relief. A Men's Club room, the gift of the Earl of St Germans, was opened in 1910. In straightening the water course a few years ago, a Roman road, some remains of tessellated pavements, a coffin, and a number of Roman coins were discovered. On the Cirencester road is an ancient stone cross, 10 feet in height. The Earl of St Germans is lord of the manor and sole landowner. The soil is clay and gravel; the chief crops are wheat, barley and roots. The combined area is 4288 acres of land, and 53 of water; rateable value £3554. The population of Latton with Eisey in 1901 was 364.
