St. James, Trowbridge

1900-1949

The Rev. Algernon Dudley Ryder, who has been for seven years Rector of Trowbridge, has left that town, in consequence of having been presented to the desirable country living of Marshfield Sussex. The Rectory of Trowbridge, which is one of the most important parochial charges in the Diocese of Salisbury, was formerly worth about £600 a year, but it is understood that the net income does not now exceed £200, with house. Swindon Advertiser, Friday, 12 September 1902
