

UPTON LOVELL CLOTH MILLS

News

EXHIBITS FROM THE UPTON LOVELL CLOTH MILL

Her Majesty's Commissioners for the Exhibition of 1862, have allotted to the Messrs Hewitt, of Upton Lovell Mills, ample space for the advantageous display of the beautiful specimens of the fine Woollen Fabrics they have prepared for exhibition; and for the production of which class of goods this establishment stands in high repute.

(The Warminster Miscellany – 1 April, 1862)

Last week the weavers in the employ of Messrs J. and H. Hewett, woollen cloth manufacturers, Upton Lovell Mills, applied for an advance of wages, which was acceded to by their employers, to the satisfaction of all.

(Western Gazette – 6 February, 1874)

LAST NIGHT'S GAZETTE

BANKRUPTS

PARTNERSHIP DISSOLVED

Henry and St. John Hewitt, Upton Lovell, Wilts, woollen manufacturers, as regards St. John Hewitt, who retires.

(Western Daily Press – 22 April, 1876)

LAST NIGHT'S GAZETTE

BANKRUPTS

LIQUIDATIONS BY ARRANGEMENT

Everett J. F., Upton Lovel, cloth manufacturer.

(Nottingham Evening Post – 3 October, 1883)

Upton Lovell cloth mills, for many years carried on by Colonel Everett, have lately been purchased by Mr Walker, of Trowbridge, and will shortly be re-started.

(Devizes and Wiltshire Gazette – 18 November, 1886)
