

Listed Buildings/ Monuments

In

Upton Lovell

The Old Rectory

Location: Up Street, Upton Lovell, Wiltshire

Grade II - Listed 11th December, 1987

Rectory, now detached house. Late C17, extended early C19. Flemish bond brick on moulded plinth with chamfered stone quoins and stone dressings, tiled roof. Two-span roof over two parallel ranges. Two-storey, 5-window. Central 6-panelled door in eared stone architrave with transom light over, two cross windows in eared architraves either side. Stone plat band to first floor; five cross windows in eared architraves; none retain original glazing bars. Right return with two external stacks with offsets, pivot-hung window and single-casement to first floor, C19 lean-to attached to right return. Left return has 12-pane and 4-pane sash to ground floor, two 12-pane sashes to first floor. Rear C19 rubble stone range has central glazed door, two 12-pane sashes either side and five sashes to first floor, dentil brick eaves cornice.

Interior: south-east and north-east sitting rooms have reeded C19 fireplaces. Front range has shutters with fielded panels, some doors with 2 fielded panels, deep chamfered first floor beams with runout stops, six-bay late C17 roof with collars. Ceased to be occupied as the rectory in 1948.

(British Listed Buildings)

©Wiltshire OPC Project/ Cathy Sedgwick/2014

The Old Rectory, Upton Lovell