

Live Pigeon Shooting

On Wednesday last, the annual Pigeon shooting match took place at Wylde, when the prizes were well contested by Messrs W. Gamblen and C. Giles, and won by the former. Several other matches also came off. The party afterwards retired to the Swan Inn, where ample justice was done to a capital dinner, provided by the worthy host in his usual liberal style."

Salisbury and Winchester Journal, 8 February 1845